FOREWORD

When the Eternal Prince of Peace came to dwell amongst us, He did so through the beautiful cooperation of the glorious Queen of Peace. In this happy cooperation of Mary we have the key to the Peace that this world can never give—a loving concern for the Will of God. We the Class of '45 dedicate our Grad Prep to Mary, Queen of Peace, that she may restore love to the hearts of men and swiftly bring our soldiers, sailors, and marines home for good. Our boys will be home for good if we beg the Queen of Peace for an armistice written in the spirit of our Holy Father's words, "Fructus iustitiae, pax"—Peace is the flower of Justice.

Queen of Peace, "May the widespread material and moral ruin, the sorrows and agonies of countries, of mothers, of wives, of brothers, of innocent children move thee to compassion. So vast a number of lives cut off in the flower of youth, bodies shattered in horrible slaughter, souls tortured and agonized and in peril of being lost eternally!

"Mother of Mercy, implore God to grant us peace and, above all, the graces capable of effecting an immediate conversion of the world and of preparing and assuring reconciliation and peace.

"Queen of Peace, pray for us and give the world at war the peace for which all peoples are longing, peace in the truth, in the justice, in the charity of Christ; pray for us that there may be a cessation of armed hostilities and that peace may return to men's souls, so that in the tranquility of order the Kingdom of God may prevail."

FACULTY

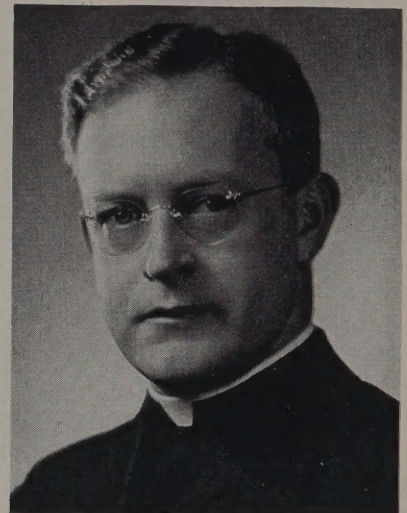

War is nothing more than the externalization of the discord that exists in men's souls. Such selfish strife now rages in the world because men have closed their eyes on the bright Star of the Sea and have forbidden entrance to her saving light. As long as the world navigators keep their gaze from Mary, Queen of Peace and Star of the Sea, they can never expect to know the Prince of Peace and the Harbor of Peace to which the Star leads.

It has been through the day by day efforts of our Faculty that we have been taught, directly and indirectly, that if we want peace in our own souls and in the world, we must keep our gaze focussed on the Mother of God and the Source of all true peace. The self-control that comes from the paternal strictness of the classroom, the courage to meet the difficulties that are born of hard and monotonous studies, the training to fight the battle against sin that far surpasses global warfare,—these and many other stepping-stones to peace within, our Faculty taught us.

For the 405 years of their existence Jesuits have looked to Christ and Mary for the inspiration and high ideals of living which they unceasingly tried to plant in the souls of us youths who belong to Christ and Mary. Because of their untiring and patient work in educating us to justice, they shall shine like the stars of heaven for all eternity. They shall live in the eternal company of the great Jesuit saints and blessed and under the never-ending smile of the Queen of the Society of Jesus and of Peace.

A MESSAGE TO THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1945

A certain writer in treating the troubles the world is experiencing today went to the core of the problem when he wrote: "The world has in large part broken loose from its spiritual anchorage and is drifting aimlessly upon the troubled seas of materialism without compass and without rudder. Its only hope of salvation is in the restoration of faith in and allegiance to the one Leader Who knows the way, the one competent Navigator for a world adrift." "Unquestionably," he concludes, "unless man finds God again, all is lost."

The Moderator and the editors of the 1945 Graduation Issue of the Loyola Prep had this in mind when they dedicated this volume to Our Blessed Mother, the Queen of Peace. It was Mary who gave us the Prince of Peace in human form. It was Mary who found Him when He was lost at the age of twelve.

Today the world is crying, as of old, "Peace, Peace. But there is no peace." There is no peace because contact has been lost with the source of true peace, Christ.

Graduates of 1945 in your quest for peace in your own lives and in your prayers and efforts for world-wide peace let your motto be "To Christ, the Prince of Peace through Mary, the Queen of Peace."

FATHER WALKER'S MESSAGE TO THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1945

The students of Loyola Academy have seen fit to center this war-time issue of the Grad Prep around the theme of Peace. The selection of such a theme at such a time is an inspiration that can have been prompted only by a spirit that is both American and Catholic. It is American because America even through the medium of war aims to construct, not destroy. It is Catholic because it is in keeping with the spirit and words of our Holy Father, Pope Pius XII, who, throughout the years of the war, has always sounded the keynote of the peace that is to follow. In the heat of conflict, men's minds are too apt to be blinded by such a hatred of their fellowmen that they forget the great issues for which the war is being fought. Their forgetfulness and hate can only breed injustice and senseless vengeance, both of which are the seeds of future wars. To be at peace, men's hearts must be free from hatred and prejudice; men's minds must be enlightened by the Christian truth of the fellowship of nations and the brotherhood in Christ of all men; and men's actions must be tempered by the sobering principles of Christian justice. It is our hope that the students of the class of 1945, who will play a definite part in the peace that is to come, will go forth from Loyola equipped with the sanity, the judgment, the foresight and deeply-imbedded Christian Faith that will make them true followers of their Leader Christ and His Mother, the Queen of Peace.

"When I am dying, how glad I shall be
That the lamp of my life has burnt out for Thee,
That sorrow has darkened the pathway I trod,
That thorns, not roses, were strewn o'er the sod;
That anguish of spirit full often was mine,
Since anguish of spirit so often was Thine.
O sweetest Rabboni, how glad I shall be
To die with a hope of a welcome from Thee."

IN MEMORIAM

Mr. John F. Carey, S. J.

On Thursday morning, March 15, Mr. John F. Carey, S.J., died after four days of unconsciousness which resulted from a stroke.

Mr. Carey was a Jesuit to the core. His major interest was the glory of God, expressed in the concrete by his strong desire for the salvation and perfection of his students. The smallest indication of character weakness in a boy found Mr. Carey at work, sometimes as a physician, sometimes as a father or friend, but always as a religious. He left no means untried in his efforts to better a boy's character. It is to his eternal happiness that his last conscious act in this life was the building of a better character in one of his boys. While Mr. Carey was thus engaged, God was already calling him to heaven where he shall shine like the stars for all eternity because he has educated others unto justice.

"Never fear but in the skies
 Saints and angels stand
 Smiling with their holy eyes
 On this new-come band.

Comrades true, born anew, peace to you!
 Your souls shall be where the heroes are
 And your memory shine like the morning star."

SENIORS

We Seniors may or may not have to engage in actual combat during these days when nations are at war; however, we will certainly play a definite part in the peace that is to come. As Catholics we believe that while human and erring leaders may flounder in their ephemeral plans for peace, we need only look to the divine and unerring Leader, Christ, and the peace plan we have from His own lips if we want to keep order and happiness in the world. His peace plan says, "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven . . . Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after justice, for they shall have their fill. Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy. Blessed are the clean of heart, for they shall see God. Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God."

It is a world built on those principles that God wants, that our Queen of Peace wants, that our Holy Father prays for continually; therefore, it is a world built on those principles that we want. This world that God gave us to use was never meant to be a slaughter house where hearts that were made to love one another would bleed to death; where intellects made for Eternal Truth would feed on the husks of war-bearing theories; where wills made to love the Everlasting Goodness of God would be magnetized by ambition, power, or money. Only total surrender and allegiance to the Peace plan of Christ can bring life back to a decaying world.

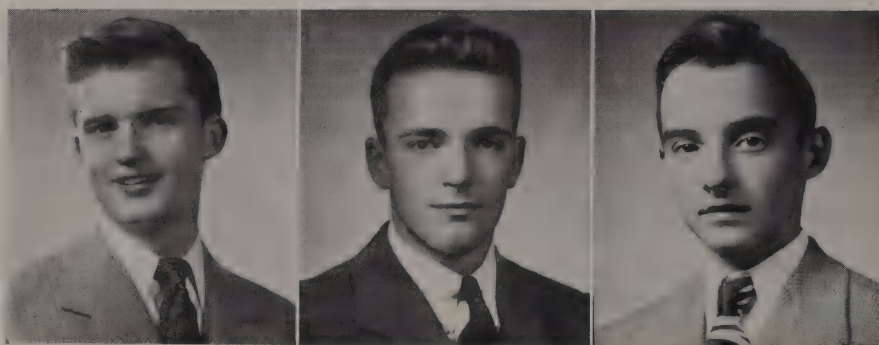

Long ago Christ, the Prince of Peace, came into the world through Mary; today, if we want Peace, He must again come through Mary to stay with us until our hunger for justice is satisfied in heaven; until mercy yields to love; until purity shall have its never-ending reward; until peacemakers shall hear, "Come, My sons, into the Kingdom of Truth and of Life, of Holiness and of Grace, of JUSTICE and LOVE and PEACE."

UNDERCLASSMEN

"To this our paternal message we would add a hope for peace and an invitation to the same; that peace which our predecessor, of pious memory, counselled to me with such insistence and invoked with such ardent prayers; for which too he offered a spontaneous sacrifice to God of his life; that peace, the sublime gift of heaven, which is the desire of all rightly fashioned hearts and is the fruit of charity and justice. We invite all men to have peace in their consciences; calm in the friendship of God; peace in their families united and brought unto harmony by the sacred love of Christ; and lastly to have peace between nations by the interchange of fraternal assistance, by friendly collaboration and cordial understanding, for the sake of the higher interests of the great human family, beneath the eye and protection of Divine Providence. It is in these anxious and difficult hours when so many difficulties seem to oppose that peace which is the most profound aspiration of men's hearts, that we raise to the Lord a special prayer for all those on whom rests the high honor and the heavy burden of guiding the peoples in the way of prosperity and progress."

ACTIVITIES

"Thus I speak to you leaders of the nations—politicians, men of arms, writers, speakers on the radio and from the platform, and as many others who have authority over the thoughts and actions of their brothers and responsibility for their faith. We who are armed with nothing beyond the word of truth and who are above all rivalries and factions, We speak to you in the name of God . . .

"It is with the force of reason and not with that of arms that justice advances. Conquests and empires not founded on justice are not blessed by God. Nothing is lost by peace. Everything is lost by war . . . May the strong hear Us and may it so be that their power does not bring destruction for the peoples, but the safeguarding of their tranquillity, of their order and of their work. We entreat you by the blood of Christ, and in thus entreating We feel and know that We have with Us all men with hearts, all those who hunger and thirst after justice, all those who suffer from the ills of life. We have with Us the hearts of mothers which beat with Ours, fathers who have to abandon their families, the humble who work and are unaware, the young generous knights of purest and noblest ideals; and with Us too is the soul of ancient Europe which grew up in the Christian faith and genius. With Us is the whole of humanity which looks for bread and freedom rather than for the sword which kills and destroys. With Us is that Christ Who in brotherly love gave His fundamental and solemn commandment, the substance of His religion, the promise of salvation for individuals and nations.

"Mindful that human works avail nothing without Divine aid, We invite all men to turn their gaze on high and to ask the Lord with fervent prayers that His Christian Mercy may descend abundantly on this tortured world and placate the angers and bring us the shining dawn of a calmer future."

Racial Group of Sodality listens to Father Gallagher.

SENIOR SODALITY

More than one hundred and fifty boys in the third and fourth years turned out each and every Friday to attend the meetings of the Senior Sodality. This year a new system was inaugurated, wherein the meetings were held during the third period in the morning. In this way, far more boys found that they were able to attend.

Another innovation in the Sodality was the dividing of the entire body into four smaller discussion groups. The Reverend Edward C. Maquire, S.J., who was the moderator of the entire organization, conducted a group who discussed the topics of the Mystical Body, and Marriage. Under the direction of the Reverend Maurice Hussey, S.J., another division discussed the subject of Co-operativism. The Social Problem was discussed by a group led by Mr. Ratterman, S.J., and the Racial Question was adequately delved into by the section under the direction of Mr. Tracy, S.J.

The Senior Sodality was led by a group of twelve boys, six from the Senior Class, six from the Junior. Those elected from the Senior division were Tom Reading, John Hayes, George Keough, John McMurray, Marty McEvily, and Ray Pelczar. The Junior Class representatives were John Hayes, Ed Lussier, John Marguerite, Jim Breenwald, Bob Festle, and Bill Hillsman.

Members of Sodality discuss the Mystical Body and Marriage.

Members of the Sodality meet in the Faculty Building Chapel every Wednesday.

JUNIOR SODALITY

"Ad Jesum per Mariam." This is the motto of the members of the Junior Sodality. Their special devotion this year has been to Our Lady of Fatima, and several members have given very interesting talks on this topic. The Reverend Maurice Hussey, S.J., with the enthusiastic co-operation of the Sodality officers, Michael Schiltz, prefect, R. Peter Bowman, assistant prefect, and Robert Garmoe, chairman, has piloted this group through one of its most successful seasons. All the members are also members of the Knights of the Holy Eucharist, an organization designed to foster the more frequent reception of Holy Communion. Their devotions consist of Rosaries, Meditations, and Weekly Mass at their Parish churches.

There is a discussion group, under the guidance of Mr. Haas, S.J., which devotes its time to the topic of Racial Problems. Each month a member of the organization is asked to give a talk on the special subject of the month.

In speaking of the Junior Sodality, one can scarcely keep from mentioning their ambitious journalistic endeavor, The Sodalite. Richard Festle, editor, and Walter Duffy and Frank Atel, assistant editors, have labored untiringly to make this publication a paper of which the Sodality and all Loyola may justly be proud.

This year's Junior Sodality has certainly done its part in upholding the fine tradition at Loyola. They have progressed well along the road toward their goal, "Ad Jesum per Mariam."

Members of Loyola Torch Club

THE LOYOLA TORCH CLUB

This past year again found the Loyola Academy Torch Club leading the school activities. In it is found the only hope for a seemingly dying school spirit. The Torch Club members were to be found in all school activities. Their men are most active in the school and the club is always building by welcoming the ambition of youth.

Torch Club men kept order at the football games. Throughout the year John Finzer and Jim Mulvihill ran the intra-mural program, consisting of football, basketball, track, and baseball. The success of the Fall Intra-Mural Night was due in a great part to the efficient supervision of Torch Club members. Under the chairmanship of Chuck Anger and Bob Luxem, two socials, unparalleled in the history of the school, were held. Fred Jochim took care of the tedious job of sorting the passes after the athletic contests. Bill Bradley, Ray Flanigan, and Bill Roche made coming events known to all by their ability. Chuck Rollings handled the scrapbook. Gene Mitchell took care of the Freshmen while they were on probation. These are but a few of those boys under the maroon and gold caps who helped to spin the wheel of progress at Loyola.

By far and away the biggest triumph for the Torch Club during the past year was the presentation of the Annual Tulip Trot. Bob Reynolds was a most capable chairman for the committee which had as its members some of Loyola's most active socialites. Chuck Anger, Vern Lahart, Ben Scahill, Dick Garrity, John Gallagher, Ray Flanigan, and Leroy Cordell, were those "Torchies" who contributed, along with all the other members, to its success. These and many other activities were in a large way made possible and were successful because of the assistance given by the club's members.

As president, Ed Kelly tried to conduct the meetings. In his absence, Vice-president Chuck Rollings took over. Secretary Marty McCarthy faithfully kept minutes and attendance. Bill Hillsman collected the dues as a true "money-man." Mr. Patrick J. Ratterman, S.J., acted as moderator and was the middle-man between the club and the Faculty. Loyola's hope for the future is bright and the peak of the brilliance is found in the Loyola Academy Torch Club.

ALUMNI NEWSLETTER

Loyola is proud of her alumni who are bearing the banner of liberty to distant lands, in the service of the nation. Naturally, they are unable to remain in contact with their former classmates and with Academy activities and affairs. Yet just this kind of news about happenings at home is what our fighting men desire most. Their parents have, of course, been unable to assume the enormous burden of collecting and distributing all this news. But our own Reverend Gerasime M. Legris, S.J., did just that, setting himself up as a clearing-house for information about thousands of Loyola Academy graduates in the Armed Forces.

This summer will see the second birthday of his Alumni News Letter, an eight-page publication giving up-to-the-minute reports on the progress, address, and success of all the graduates in the service. Father's chatty epistle also prints school sports results and all other important events. Having expanded in size from a two-page letter, it has also zoomed in circulation, until now each month Father Legris launches 1500 copies on their way to all corners of the globe.

The bulletin is mailed to the families of servicemen, who, after reading it themselves, forward it to their sons. The eagerness with which G.I.'s and their families peruse this letter can hardly be conceived. It is practically their sole link with former chums and with familiar Loyola activities. Of course, for his material, Father Legris relies upon letters from the boys in service, parents, and friends. The letter has kept the sacrifices of our older brothers in our minds, and has helped to stimulate daily Mass and Communion for their intention. Every day two classes of students receive Holy Communion in a body at school for the welfare of our fighting graduates.

When Father Legris has synopsisized the most interesting parts of the communications he receives, and compiled his letter, the digest is then mimeographed, folded, and mailed to the servicemen's families by a group of Academy students. These boys give up some of their afternoons to do this work, thus contributing a goodly amount of morale-building as their share of the war effort.

THE ROSTRUM

During the successful debating season, the members of the Rostrum debated two main topics, one on the necessity of a policy of permanent federal price control, and the other on the nationwide lowering of the voting age to eighteen years. Although the accelerated program deprived the Rostrum of many forensic-minded and able Loyolans, the senior debaters under the coaching of their moderator, Mr. Harvanek, S.J., secured second place in the Catholic League Tournament.

Thomas Reading and John Hayes, on the affirmative, and George O'Laughlin and Charles Giblin, on the negative, debated the price control topic which was used in the Catholic League Tournament. The lowering of the voting age was the topic selected by the Open Forum League. Donald Byrne, John Hayes, Bergan Curran and Bill Hoffman accompanied Mr. Harvanek to Milwaukee when Marquette High School held a simulated peace conference at which the schools represented formulated a mock peace treaty. The climax of the debating season came when Loyola was host to a large delegation of debaters from Catholic High Schools throughout Chicago.

The purpose of the Rostrum has always been to encourage and train Loyolans for future public speaking which is essential to the formation of forceful Catholic leaders. Interscholastic debates not only give the students valuable training in searching for reference material, but also offer them the advantage of practice in extemporaneous speaking, which tends to develop an analytical mind as well as self confidence and polished oratory.

The members of the Rostrum deeply appreciate the excellent coaching work of Mr. Harvanek, and are grateful to the Academy for providing them with the opportunity to further their education in public speaking.

THE GAVEL

Those ambitious freshmen and sophomores who wish to gain the advantage of an early start in public speaking join Loyola's junior debating society, the Gavel. The twofold aim of this organization is to lead the way for its members in overcoming their throes of self-consciousness on the rostrum, and to supply the training necessary during this crucial period of their lives for the formation of clear and orderly habits of thought, which will in later life mark them as educated men. Correct and convincing debating therefore is one of the best ways of accomplishing this, since it requires logical and precise thought.

The process of molding debaters took the form of first allowing them to have a few preliminary tussles on the home ground, and then permitting them to sally forth to defend Loyola's honor against other schools, the principal rivals being Alvernia, St. Scholastica's, and New Trier. Just before the Christmas vacation, the freshmen held an intra-mural tournament, which had the effect of whetting their forensic appetite. And so, Loyola sent representatives to tournaments at Marquette and Alvernia.

The interscholastic topic for the year was: Resolved: That the legal voting age be reduced to eighteen. But having thoroughly mastered this subject the young debaters supplied variety in arguing about compulsory military training, the abolition of capital punishment, and the League of Nations. Several future lawyers among the Freshmen provided a pleasingly different type of amusement in acting out an authentic mock trial.

And so with the assistance of the club's president, Theodore D. Leonard, and secretary, John Hornof, and the cooperation of the members, Mr. Theodore J. Tracy, S.J., the moderator, was able to attain the twofold purpose for which the Gavel exists.

FINE ARTS SOCIETY

Every Friday afternoon at three o'clock, a group of ardent music and Art lovers gathered around the phonograph in the Senior Lounge. These meetings were held for the purpose of increasing the members' knowledge and appreciation of the Fine Arts. This group of cultural gentlemen were banded together under the title of The Fine Arts Society. This year, their seventh in existence, was very successful. At the beginning of the year, approximately ten new candidates for membership joined the twenty members who returned from last year, to form the largest membership in the Society's history.

The Fine Arts Society was favored again this year with having the Reverend William J. Toomey, S.J., as moderator. He very generously gave his time in order that the members might have the most successful season in their history. In this aim, he was assisted by Thomas Reading, president, and Theodore Leonard, secretary, under whose leadership the club delved into the realms of the music of the masters, from Bach to Rachmaninoff. The first semester's programs were so arranged as to present a chronological cycle of composers. The works of all the important masters were studied in this way, and the members were able to see more clearly the development of music through the ages. One of the highlights of the year was a short recital by Miss Elizabeth Jeffries, the noted coloratura soprano.

During the second semester, the topic of Mythology was discussed. Guest speakers were obtained who enlightened the members on various phases of ancient Greek and Roman mythology.

The group attended in a body various concerts, and they also witnessed the production of the Shakespearean Drama, "Othello". These outside activities added to the large roster of interests which the members enjoyed during the past year.

With such a background, the Fine Arts Society looks forward to many more successful seasons in the future.

THE STAMP CLUB

The Loyola Academy Stamp Club, organized four years ago by Rev. G. M. Legris, S.J., has had another prosperous and interesting year. The purpose of the club is to keep those interested in collecting stamps from losing their interest and to interest others in this very enjoyable and profitable hobby. For this purpose the club holds weekly meetings at which the members buy and exchange stamps and covers (cancelled envelopes) or just show off their collections. In the line of covers the present world strife has provided many interesting items from G.I.'s all over the world, both of the V-Mail and ordinary envelope variety. Interest this year, as before, has centered on covers from ships but interest in obtaining covers from liberated countries has been growing. The high-lights of the year for the club members are exhibits, held each quarter, during which the members vie with each other in exhibiting their foreign and U. S. stamps and covers. Many members invest in items sent from the Stamp Mart at West Baden College, the Jesuit house of Philosophy and Theology for the Chicago Province. In the way they help out the missions as well as build up their collections. Officers for next year have already been elected; namely, James H. Duffy, president and William J. Lambrecht, vice-president. Plans for next year include short lectures by the members of the club on their own specialty in stamps, methods of mounting and arranging of stamps, information obtained in collecting and studying stamps and kin subjects.

THE ACOLYTES

Though new clubs may come and old ones may disappear at Loyola, there is one organization, as you undoubtedly know, is the Acolytes. The Acolytes are a loyal group of lads who give up those precious hours of sleep in the morning in order to assist the Jesuit Fathers at their early Masses in the Faculty Building Chapel. Through all types of weather these boys come to perform their humble services.

This year the Acolytes have been under the able supervision of Father Anthony J. Krippner, S.J. He has given up his valuable time to arrange the serving schedule and take charge of all the business connected with the Acolytes.

As some reward for their faithful services, Acolytes, who had served Mass for a specified number of days, were granted several special gym nights, on which all the facilities of the gym were available for them, exclusively.

We all know that the priests of Loyola are grateful to the Acolytes, and that our Heavenly Father must look with special pleasure on these lads for their sacrifice and faithful service.

Also, many of the priests have remarked about the wonderful improvement in the Acolytical Society. In previous years, only eight or nine boys would be present, but this year every group that is appointed is usually present, one hundred per cent.

CHESTERTON CLUB

In its fourth year of activity at Loyola, the Chesterton Club has successfully pursued the aim for which it was founded—that is—the cultivation of appreciation of Catholic Literature both among the members of the Club and the student body in general.

The Club's work of disseminating Catholic literature has been achieved largely through the efforts of those unsung heroes who donate their noon hours to act as librarians; their task has indeed been an arduous but worthy one.

Throughout the years of its existence the Chesterton Club has annually sponsored a raffle, the proceeds of which have been devoted to the purchase of several new volumes to augment the growing legacy of the Club. This year the raffle was superlatively successful, and is concrete evidence of the Club's growing influence.

Under the able supervision of Mr. Tracy, S.J., the moderator, President Bill Isaacson, and Vice-president Ed Senini, the Chestertonians have reviewed several contemporary works including The Scarlet Lily, The Green Years, Philosophies at War, and other note-worthy volumes. To encourage creative writing among the members, their original works were read at the annual social and added to the collection of such works which is composed of offerings of all pristine members.

To Robert Festle is owed a great deal of gratitude for his untiring efforts as Secretary, head librarian, and supervisor of our very successful raffle.

Mrs. Charles S. Rollings, President

The Mothers' Club of Loyola has been doing fine work ever since it was founded and this past year was no exception. The mothers began this successful year on Monday, September 18, 1944, under the guidance of the new president, Mrs. Charles S. Rollings and the moderator, the Rev. Ara F. Walker, S.J. A complete program for the entire year was worked out in advance by the members of the club and copies, announcing the dates of meeting and parties, were sent to all the members.

MOTHERS' CLUB

Father Walker arranged to have a number of prominent speakers address the mothers at their regular meetings. The Rev. Ralph A. Gallagher, S.J., Dean of the School of Sociology of Loyola University, spoke at the initial meeting.

The Rev. Michael J. English, S.J., army chaplain, gave an inspiring talk to the mothers at the November meeting. In February the mothers attended a very successful book review, given by Mrs. Virginia Kendall Upham. Remembering a mother's natural wish to meet her son's teachers, arrangements were made so that all the Academy instructors would be present at the teas which followed the lectures.

Besides these informal meetings in the Senior Lounge, the mothers sponsor three important annual parties in the gymnasium. The Junior and Senior mothers presented the first of these parties on Friday, October 13, 1944.

In December, the mothers held their Annual Christmas Party in collaboration with the Loyola University Mothers' Club. On Friday, April 27, 1945, the Annual Scholarship Party, which was the final party of the year, was held.

The mothers observed their annual Day of Recollection on Tuesday, March 27, 1945, under the direction of the Rev. Robert J. Willmes, S.J. In this way the spiritual as well as the social and scholarly aims of the Club were realized.

Mothers hold Annual Christmas Party

FATHERS' CLUB

Under the able leadership of president, Mr. Vincent B. McKeon and moderator, the Rev. Gerasime M. Legris, S.J., the Fathers' Club has once again come to a successful termination; and has succeeded in its purpose of establishing closer contact between fathers, sons, and teachers, and of assisting many who without the generous help of the organization would be unable to remain at Loyola.

The club started the season in September with the Freshman Father and Sons' Night. At the first family meeting in October, closely following the speech of the Rev. Vincent Herr, S.J., Coach John J. Connelly had the football team demonstrate a few plays and explained them to the audience.

The annual All-Professional Vaudeville Show, which is the only financial activity of the year, followed in November and was a terrific financial success. In December, the Fathers' Club sponsored a banquet for the football team; during which, Mr. Edward McKeever, former coach of Notre Dame, delivered an inspiring talk. At the banquet each senior football player was presented with a miniature silver football.

In January an amateur night was held to give all stage-struck students an opportunity to show their talents. February found the fathers and sons making good use of the facilities of the gym.

Mr. Vincent B. McKeon, President

The Day of Recollection was held in March, and April saw the second successful Family night of the year. The annual Communion Breakfast in May rounded out the busy schedule and brought to an end one of the most successful years the Fathers' Club has seen.

The Fathers' Club has thus completed its tenth year. We congratulate the Fathers' Club, Mr. McKeon, the directors, and Father Legris for their noble work and wish them continued success.

Directors of the Fathers' Club

THE BAND

The first public appearance of the band this year was at the football games. Before the football season twenty new members were added to the band's roster to strengthen the musicians for their appearances throughout the year.

In November the band appeared at the All-Professional Vaudeville Show of the Fathers' Club. On March 24 the instrumental solo contest was held. Entries were George VonKaenel, clarinet; Joe Gauer, sax; Frank McElroy, bass; Stanley Anstett, cornet; Michel McKiernan, cornet; Robert Schnitzius, sax; James O'Brien, trombone; Charles Owens, cornet; Robert Haselsteiner, barytone; Edmund Walsh, flute. In April the band played at the opening of St. Ignatius Parish basketball tournament. On May 11, the band made its final appearance in its second annual concert at the Loyola Community Theater.

The president of the band is Joe Gauer. Mr. Guido Mattei is in his third year as director and Mr. Flynn, S.J., is the moderator. Through the efforts of Mr. Flynn this year saw the printing of the school song in popular sheet music form.

THE SHUTTER CLUB

Around Loyola all those stung by the well known "shutterbug" belong to the Shutter Club. This organization plays an important part in life at Loyola, for without it the year book might be much different. You can always find one of the members working feverishly down in the darkroom; there is always a student with a little black box at all school events.

During the course of the year lectures on various phases of photography are given by the officers of the Club. In these lectures the members are taught how to take, develop, print and enlarge their own pictures. Two or three exhibits are held to give the members a chance to show their handiwork. Cash prizes are awarded to the winners and all get a chance to criticize the prints. Each year the Club holds an outing which is more or less a busman's holiday. The members vie with one another in seeing who can snap the best pictures of the beauties of nature.

PUBLICITY CLUB

Come to the Homecoming Dance! Contribute to the Mission Collection! Swing out to the Tulip Trot! Cheer at the football games, the basketball games, the swimming meets! Such are the exhortations we see adorning the bulletin boards throughout the school. These signs, and many others, were the work of the members of the Publicity Club.

Artistically inclined students banded together to perform a service for the other students and the members of various clubs. Whenever any clubs were in need of advertising, the Publicity Poster Club was always ready to comply with their wishes.

It was largely through the efforts of Mr. Haas, S.J., acting together with Jack Lane, president, and John Jones, vice-president, that this organization was made possible. Although the Club was formed last year, it was not until this year that all the plans were put into operation.

The knowledge of practical art, combined with other benefits which were gained by the members of the Club, more than justifies the existence of such an organization at Loyola.

GRAD PREP

Early in September Mr. Walsh chose Jack Jozwiak and Chuck Rollings editors of the 1945 Grad Prep. These two men possessed invaluable experience in journalism and through their generous and untiring efforts Loyola was able to publish the most outstanding of its annuals. Although hampered by war-time conditions, Chuck Rollings, who for practical purposes was also moderator of the book, successfully met the April 6 deadline.

During September, October, and November, the editors worked feverishly planning the make-up of the book in accordance with war-time restrictions, and from that time the staff began to function. Dick Garrity and Ed Kelly handled football and basketball writeups together. While Garrity wrote up the boxing team and acolytes, Kelly handled the articles on the Torch Club and the Grap Prep. Credit for the "candid" pages goes to Ed Kelly and Bill Hillsman. Marty McCarthy took care of the Fathers' and Mothers' clubs, the Band and the Loyola Prep. John Hayes composed articles on the Alumni News and the swimming team in addition to keeping faithfully the year's calendar. Tom Reading took care of the junior sodality, the Bit and Bridle Club, and the Publicity Club. Write-ups on the Stamp Club, Shutter Club, and track team were done by Bill Isaacson who, together with Jerry Thale, took the many vivid and colorful pictures which adorn the pages of this Grad Prep. Lou Hector handled the tedious task of the typist, while Dick Quinn originated and designed the beautiful cover whose exceptional quality inspired the staff to make the inside of the book approach the outside. Finally, Bill Hillsman, Bob Reynolds and Jim Kemper worked hard to insure the financial success of the Grad Prep.

Due appreciation must be extended to the various members of the Faculty, especially Mr. Doherty, whose cooperation made our work easier. As a final and lasting tribute to the efforts of the editors and the staff, we have here the GRAD PREP of 1945.

THE LOYOLA PREP

Under the guidance of Mr. Thomas J. Maher, S.J., and the co-editors, Chuck Rollings and Jack Jozwiak, the Loyola Prep completed its twenty-eighth year of existence.

Sports news was covered by sports editors, Ray Bomhack and John Gallagher, and the sports staff, Fred Jochim and Ed Senini. The exchanges were handled by Paul Hostert. Feature editors were Don Byrne, Jack Madden, the writer of the "Who's Who" column, and Gene Jones. Tom Reading, the business manager, took care of Loyola's Good Neighbor policy.

The news staff, Bill Penrice, Jim Wade, Jim Mulyihill, Dan Healy and Bert Hoffman, covered all news-of-the-day assignments.

Early in the second semester Mr. Maher announced the appointment of a new staff. As has been the custom at Loyola, the senior staff was replaced by a junior staff who will carry on until the second semester of next year. Eugene Dougherty and Louis Lehr were named co-editors. All photographs appearing in the Prep were taken by Bill Isaacson, Jerry Thale and Jack Austgen.

Seated — Garmoe, Mr. Maher, Shannon. Standing — Collyer, Glunz, Larkin, Quinn, Durso, Bireley.

IN APPRECIATION

At this point we should like to pause in order to express our sincere appreciation to those men who have generously cooperated with the Staff in the production of this 1945 Grad Prep.

Mr. Edward J. Bryan, of the Pantagraph Printing Company, generously placed himself at our disposal no matter how small was the detail about which we needed his advice. His friendly interest made our work less tedious.

Mr. Edward J. Doherty, S.J., spent many hours planning the division pages and taking and developing the pictures. Through his unselfish work we were enabled to get the book out as quickly as we did.

We are very grateful to John Finzer for the write-up on intra-murals; to Ray Bomhack for Track; to Charles Giblin for Senior Debating; to Theodore Leonard for Junior Debating; to George O'Laughlin for the Chesterton Club write-up.

We wish also to thank our official photographer, Mr. Sidney Gordon, for his cooperation.

Finally, we are grateful to the advertisers and the many patrons through whose necessary help we were able to finance the publication of the Grad Prep.

ATHLETICS

"We exhort all to make their way back to the King of Peace, the Conqueror of Death, from Whom we have heard the comforting words, 'Peace be to you.' May He bountifully grant us that Peace which He promised, His own Peace which the world cannot give, that Peace which alone can calm and allay the fears and the confusion of men's minds . . .

"Now with men it is so ordered that their outward tranquillity must be the reflection of something within. Whence the first care must be to bring about Peace in men's souls. If peace be lacking to any man's soul, let him have a care, as soon as may be, to seek it. If he already possesses peace of soul, let him diligently foster it, guard it and keep it unharmed . . .

"Let your spirit subject itself to the Higher Power and it shall triumph over the lower; you shall be filled with peace, true and certain peace, in most orderly guise. What is the scheme of this Peace? God ruling the mind; the mind ruling the body—there is not any more perfect scheme of things . . .

"Peace is built upon the eternal God, to acknowledge Whom, to honor and to worship Whom, to obey Whose commandments is a duty laid upon every living creature. To diminish the obedience due to the Divine Creator, to rule it out of existence is nothing else than to throw into confusion and to break up entirely the tranquillity of the individual citizen's life and that of the family, of the nations, and ultimately of the whole human race. At the bidding of God alone have Peace and Justice kissed. And this is to be expected seeing that, as Isaias sings, The work of justice shall be peace, and the service of justice quietness and security for evermore."

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Four wins and six losses! Such was the football record for 1944. True, the season was not too impressive, still, to put it in the words of Coach Connelly, "It was better than I expected." At the banquet honoring the squad, silver football charms were given to each of the departing Seniors.

LOYOLA 6, DE PAUL 0

After three and a half weeks of summer training, the Ramblers opened their season against De Paul. Both squads were evenly matched and as yet inexperienced. Consequently, the game was slow and unexciting as both teams battled up and down the gridiron. Late in the final period, a determined sixty yard drive finalled netted the Loyolans their only score. Jack Floto scored the winning touchdown on a one yard plunge.

Bill Roche is brought down on a gain of six yards. Others in the picture are George Keough (24) and Gene Murphy (31).

Piazza of Joliet is brought down by Bert Hoffman (29). Others in the picture are Jim Mulvihill (15) and Gene McKeough (10).

ST. GEORGE 20, LOYOLA 0

One week later under those same lights, Loyola engaged her traditional rivals from Evanston, St. George. Both teams were keyed up for the game, but the Dragons' speed and power overcame anything Loyola could muster. Operating from the deceptive "T", our opponents struck with the opening kick-off. Within five minutes they held a seven point lead and that was never threatened. Coffin corner kicks by Gene McKeough kept the Dragons out for a while, but before the half the Ramblers were on the short end of a 14-0 score. Late in the second half, the Dragons completed their scoring on an intercepted pass.

SENN 45, LOYOLA 0

A powerful Senn team, that finished second in the North Section of the Public League, scored at will in the annual Thanksgiving Day game. The score was 14-0 at the half, but in the last two quarters Senn, got rolling to score five more touchdowns. Loyola's attack was hampered by numerous fumbles when the ball was deep in Senn's territory.

Ed Kelly carries the ball against De Paul while Cleary, Floto, Bradley, and McKeon join him. Loyola's only score against Leo is made by Chuck Anger. McKeon is blocked (?), while Keough and McKeough give chase to a Ritan. Jones, McHugh (20), McKeough, Cleary, and Flood unite to halt ■ Senn plower.

LOYOLA 13, SULLIVAN 12

The following Friday, under the brightly shining lights of Loyola Stadium, Sullivan High fell under the yoke. However, this was not quite the kind of game expected for the Ramblers had to come from behind twice to win. Two touchdowns together with Jim McHugh's placement gave the team their second win. The Tigers scored first, but later Bill Roche gave the Ramblers six points. Then, Jim McHugh made that all-important conversion. In the third period Sullivan again gained the lead. With the last minutes ticking away, Dick Garrity passed to Chuck Anger who in turn lateralled to George Keough, and the big center scored the winning touchdown.

LEO 34, LOYOLA 6

Sunday afternoon, October 1st, the Ramblers opened their league schedule against Leo. The results of the game were not agreeable to anyone except Leo fans. Besides losing the game, Loyola lost the services of its first string left half, Ed Kelly. Early in the first quarter Kelly's leg was broken and he was out of the line-up for the rest of the season. Leo scored twice and then Chuck Anger caught one of Garrity's passes in the end zone for our only score. At the half the Loyolans were behind by eight points. Leo added three more touchdowns in the second period to win, 34-6.

WEBER 6, LOYOLA 0

The Ramblers dropped their second league start to Weber, who later turned out to be City Catholic Champs. Loyola took the offensive and repeatedly drove deep into the opposition's territory. However, the home team lacked that final scoring punch. In the second quarter, a Weber back broke into the open and sprinted twenty-two yards to score the winning and, the only touchdown of the game. Towards the end of the contest, Loyola coupled passes and ground gains in a final bid for supremacy. Weber stopped the drive on its seventeen yard line within inches of a first down.

MOUNT CARMEL 16, LOYOLA 14

After playing one of its best games against the pre-season favorites, L.A. lost this heart-breaker in the last thirty seconds by a thirty-five yard field goal. In the second quarter McKeon scored by racing eight yards around end. McHugh made the conversion that put Loyola in the lead. Trailing again in the third period L.A. launched a drive of eighty yards which was climaxed when Roche plunged over from the six. McHugh again kicked the point and then came that field goal.

LOYOLA 13, DE LA SALLE 6

Loyola was forced to come from behind to win its first league game of the season from De La Salle. Late in the third period Garrity whipped a pass to McKeon that was good for twenty-two yards and a touchdown. Jim McHugh's trusty toe added the extra point. Willie Roche supplied the second touchdown on a three yard smash after the ball was put deep into De La Salle territory by a long pass from McKeough to Flanagan. The opponents score came in the second quarter.

ST. RITA 25, LOYOLA 6

Jack McKeon intercepted a St. Rita pass, and before the Ramblers relinquished the ball, Willie Roche had pile-driven over the goal line. But then Loyola's attack bogged down and its defense weakened, and before the final gun went off, the hardfighting Ritans proceeded to run and pass for four touchdowns. It was the team's fourth league loss.

LOYOLA 14, JOLIET 6

The league schedule was finished on a cheerful note against Joliet. Loyola's running attack was at its best. The first period was scoreless, but in the second, Ray Flanagan and Willie Roche took turns in carrying the ball to Joliet's twenty yard line; from there McKeon connected with a pass to McKeough in the end zone. In the final period Dick Garrity went three yards off tackle for the final score. McHugh kicked the extra points. The Ramblers ended their league schedule with two wins and four losses.

It's Sweeney, McKeon, Roche, Keough, and Garrity striving to catch McAuliffe of Leo near LA goal.

This year's team was led by George Keough. His election kept up the tradition of electing linemen as captains. At the end of the season, the gridders chose Gene McKeough as the most valuable player. Mr. John Connelly completed his eighteenth year as a Catholic League coach. He was assisted by Mr. Robert Harvanek, S.J.

FRESHMEN FOOTBALL

The 1944 Freshmen will, we confidently predict, provide many welcome additions to future varsity teams. The Freshmen lost but one game to DePaul, and defeated St. Ignatius and St. George twice. A final game with St. Philip had to be cancelled.

The season opened against St. Ignatius on September 29. Dempsey's passing accounted for a pair of touchdowns and Ryan's fifty yard run back of an Ignatius punt scored a third, Loyola winning 18-0. St. George met the Frosh under the lights the following Saturday and left the field with a 6-0 loss. DePaul then handed Loyola its first and only defeat 14-7. Ignatius met with another defeat 13-7. On the same day the freshmen "Pee Wees" turned back Ignatius 19-0. St. George returned and received the same treatment it did the first time, a 6-0 loss.

Several outstanding Freshmen deserve mention. Fred Dempsey's accurate passing set up, and Mike Ryan's receiving and running, scored all but one of the touchdowns. The teams were under the guidance of Messrs. Gutowski and Ratterman.

At the completion of the season letters were awarded to Capt. Jack Corbett, Adams, Amberg, Bialk, Bowen, Conley, Dempsey, Uringer, Kasten, McGowan, McGreevy, Powers, Mike and Ned Ryan, Schmitz, Stanton, Dan Touhy, Vlerick, and to Managers Tom Kelly and Paul Gauer.

HEAVYWEIGHT BASKETBALL

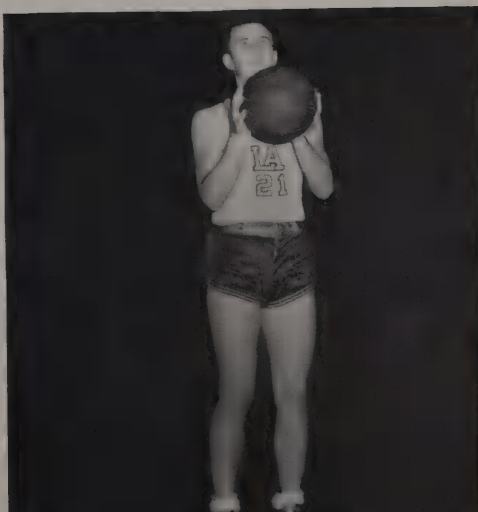

In their fifth year under Coach John "Hicks" Connelly, the Loyola heavyweights had a rather unsuccessful season. The team was greatly weakened by the loss of Ed Kelly, whose deadly eye and stellar floor game would have meant the difference between losing and winning many a close game.

The team won three of its six practice games in the early days of the season. In the first game Fenwicks Friars journeyed to the Loyola home floor to deal the Ramblers a 25-12 defeat. Loyola quickly bounced back to trounce Sullivan, 24-17. The following Sunday, led by Gene McKeough's eleven points, the fighting Loyolans handed De Paul a 37-31 setback in a thrilling game. The squad continued its winning ways by beating St. Ignatius, 33-26, on the latter's floor. In the annual St. George Pre-Season Tournament the team was eliminated in the first round by losing to St. Mel by the score of 33-25. The practice season came to an end as the squad fell, 47-22, to mighty Senn, the eventual Public League Champs.

The league opener pitted Loyola against a fast Joliet quintet on our home floor. After a hard fought game the visitors emerged the victors by a 34-28 score. Before again resuming league play, we met our traditional rival, St. George, and came out on the short end of a 36-24 score. Coming back to their home floor, the Ramblers met St. Rita in the second league game of the season. The lead see-sawed back and forth throughout the entire game, until, with just seconds to go, St. Rita sank a basket to win a real thriller, 35-33.

"Dode" Troman moves in to take a rebound.

The next two league games found Loyola playing Mt. Carmel and De La Salle away from home. In the first game they succumbed to Mt. Carmel, 40-29, despite Dick DeCaluwe's twelve points. But in the second game good fortune returned to the team, and, led by Harry Sullivan, who scored fifteen points, they nosed out De La Salle, 32-27. The game with Weber was a real heart-breaker. The team played one of its best games of the season only to lose in the waning moments of the game, 41-38. Dick DeCaluwe and "Dode" Troman shared Loyola's scoring honors with eleven points apiece. The first round of the league schedule came to a close as Leo's powerful Lions came up North to hand the Ramblers a 45-20 setback.

The squad traveled out to Joliet to start the second round. Gene McKeough's eleven points were in vain as we lost, 41-30. After these three consecutive defeats, the team got back into the winning column by downing St. Rita, 37-31. McKeough and DeCaluwe contributed over half of Loyola's points by scoring ten and twelve points, respectively. Mt. Carmel soon put an end to the Ramblers' short stay in the winning bracket by shellacking them, 43-28. Led by Marty McCarthy, who scored seventeen points the squad handed St. Michael a 47-29 beating in a non-league game. The squad split even in two more non-league games. They overwhelmed St. Procopius, 65-28. Marty McCarthy set some kind of record when he swished twenty-eight points through the hoops, while playing only three quarters of the game. In the second non-league game, St. George came to Loyola and again defeated the Loyolans, this time by a 42-25 score. The team resumed league play against De La Salle. Dick DeCaluwe and Harry Sullivan scored sixteen and seventeen points respectively in a free-scoring game, but despite their efforts De La Salle came out on top, 53-43. In a preview of next year's team Loyola again met St. Procopius in a non-league game. None of the seniors on the team played. The younger members proved very efficient at making points, as they scored 49 of them to 25 for St. Procopius. The league season came to a close in a sorrowful note, with the Ramblers losing their last two games. They dropped one to Weber, 45-29, and a few days later, Leo's South Section Champs proved their caliber by beating the Loyolans, 56-27, in the season finale.

The Heavies were led by Captain Gene McKeough, whose deadly long shots and floor generalship played a major part in all of Loyola's games. Dick DeCaluwe, a junior, was the team's highest scorer and should really reach his peak next year. Harry Sullivan, another junior, played a great game under the backboards and hooked in the plenty of points when they were needed. Marty McCarthy seemed to be just getting hot when the season ended. Jim Mackey, "Dode" Troman, and Jack Durso all saw a lot of action and were always in there fighting for Old Loyola."

LIGHTWEIGHT BASKETBALL

Loyola's lightweights of '44-'45 were an aggregation of "Bucketees" to be watched during the coming two seasons. With a most inexperienced squad the lights won only a minority of contests, ending the season with six wins and seventeen losses. Their league record of two wins and ten losses found them in seventh place but you can rest assured that it will not be the same next season.

In practice games throughout the season the lights defeated Sullivan, 24-13, St. George, 21-20, and St. Procopius twice, 33-19 and 29-22. In the annual Fenwick Tournament, the first round saw the elimination of the Ramblers by De La Salle, 31-15. In the other practice contests, Loyola was on the short end of the score in encounters with Fenwick, DePaul, St. Ignatius, Senn, St. George, and St. Michael. During the league season the only foe to fall before Loyola's speedy lights was St. Rita, who suffered defeat on two occasions. Joliet, Leo, Mt. Carmel, Weber, and De La Salle found the lights to their liking and conquered them in both of their league games.

Overshadowing a somewhat gloomy season are the brilliant prospects for the future. Bill Maurer and Ben Scahill were the only Seniors on the squad. These two, together with Captain Jack Revell, formed the nucleus for the green squad. Maher's rebounding was a highlight of the season. Bill Conway, a flashy forward, was the high scorer because of his driving ability. In Dalton, Powers, and Dempsey, Loyola has found three of the most promising ballplayers in years. Moore, McIntyre, Grimes, Acton, and Brennan are all underclassmen and will return to strengthen Loyola hopes for future success on the basketball court.

Coach Connelly worked hard to develop these boys. And lest we forget, the managerial chores were ably handled by John Bireley and Jim Shannon.

Captain Jack Revell caught in act of shooting a free throw.

BANTAMS

Under the tutelage of Mr. Patrick Ratterman, S.J., Loyola began a new regime with a group of fighting freshmen and sophomores, Mr. Ratterman led the team to a successful record of eleven wins and five losses.

After beating St. Ignatius in their first game, they dropped one to St. George. Following that, they tripped up St. Rita and decisively trounced St. Michael and De La Salle. They were nosed out by DePaul and then regained the road to victory by trouncing St. Ignatius, for the second time, St. Patrick and St. Rita. Leo and Mt. Carmel, however, made our boys taste defeat. DePaul, St. Michael, St. George, and De La Salle fell before the onrush of Loyola's might. To end the season, the Ramblers dropped a hard fought game to Mt. Carmel, 31-29.

Led by Captain Maloney, Fred Lindstrom, and Jack Fougerousse, the team showed great hopes for the future. Jarchol, Rolfson, and Lovell also saw much action. Whittingham, Sinks, and Whelan did more than their share of "hooping." Four frosh with a bright future turned up in Tuohy, McGowan, Corbett, and Murnane.

FLIES

With Mr. Ratterman again at the helm, the Flies, not to be outdone by their big brothers, the bantams, closed the season with an equally successful record of eleven wins, and five losses.

With a ready, willing, and able five, the Flies won double victories over our West Side Rivals, St. Ignatius, and our bitter enemies on the hardwood, St. George, St. Michael, and DePaul. After having been defeated in previous encounters, the "pee-wees" as they were sometimes called, soared back with victories over De La Salle and St. Rita. They overpowered St. Patrick in championship style. A single tussle was lost to Leo and Mt. Carmel was the only team which turned the tide of defeat in the direction of Loyola on consecutive meetings.

George Acton and Tom Brennan led the scoring of the fighting squad. Theil was in the game to the last minute. Cerney was small dynamite and McAuliff, Bob Brennan, and Hennessey showed great promise in carrying the team through the season. Grimes, Vandervoort, Grace, Frische, Carman, Duffy, and Ryan all did their part in the founding of a new and better hardwood organization at Loyola.

BOXING

Loyola Academy's 1945 boxing team took to the ring this year for the ninth successful season under the able coaching of genial Jerry Heffernan.

After many weeks of intensive workouts the team launched its competitive season against St. Mel in the Loyola Gym. The hard work of the team paid off; they won the meet with ease, taking nine of the ten bouts.

Glenwood Naula Training School proved a tougher nut to crack. Dick Keshen assured us of victory when, with the score, Loyola 5, Glenwood 4, he stepped into the ring to win the final, and clinching bout.

On February 24 the Loyola leatherslingers journeyed out to Culver, Indiana, to meet Culver Military Academy. Loyola won the first four bouts on victories by Jim Condon, Tom Curran, Dan Ahern, and Bill Roche. The team then dropped the next seven bouts to the hard fighting cadets. The fights of Lee Cordell, Jim Slattery, and George Hardin were closely contested and might have gone either way, but the decisions were awarded to the Culver fighters.

Undaunted by this setback, the Loyola boxers again took to the ring. This time their opponent was St. Mary's of Burlington, Wisconsin. The meet was closely contested in the early bouts, but Dick Keshen, Dan Ahern, and Lee Cordell won the last three fights to clinch the victory 7-4. This was the last meet of the season and last one under Coach Jerry Heffernan. After this meet he left Loyola because of new business affiliations. Loyola was sorry to see him go, because he had done so much for the school, and was so well-liked by every one.

The 1945 team was captained by hardhitting Bill Roche. Lee Cordell, in his fourth year on the team, was one of the most clever boxers and sharpest punchers on the squad. Lee and Bill were ably supported by Dan Ahern, Dick Keshen, John Hellgeth, Jim Slattery, George Hardin, Phil Reichman, Frank Scheid, Tom Curran, and Jim Condon.

Lee Cordell works out on the punching bag.

SWIMMING

The Loyola swimming team, led by co-captains John Hayes and Bob Luxem, went through its most successful season in recent years. The senior natators won five out of eight duals meets, while the juniors won two out of six encounters.

Senior triumphs were sparked by free-styler Bob Luxem, John Hayes in the back-stroke, and breaststroker Lenny Deden. Dick Griesser, junior free-style expert, often lent his aid to the seniors, as did Elmer Layden and "Red" Conley. These three are future stars, and other fine prospects are Bill Johnson, Bob Foley, Larry McDonnell, Bob Theisen, and Jim Wolfe. In the first annual junior meet, Greisser took two second places. Layden was fourth in the back-stroke, and breaststroker McDonnell was third. Gene Corley was third best diver.

The L.A. swimmers seized the individual honors from Fenwick in the Catholic League senior meet although the Friars won the team title. Deden won the breaststroke, Luxem, the 50 yard freestyle, and Hayes, the backstroke crown. Pictures of the "terrific trio" were printed in both Chicago morning papers. Each swam the fastest race of his life to upset the Fenwick stars.

Splash! Splash!

Griesser was second in the 100 yard free-style, and Gene Corley's brilliant diving just missed the title by one-third of a point. Loyola had won the diving for seven years in a row. Tobin, Baker, Wolfe, and Griesser took second in one relay, and Hayes, Deden, and Luxem placed second in the medley relay.

Capable Manager Paul Hostert kept everything running smoothly; Assistant Charley O'Donnell contributed his effervescent wit.

As a symbol of their esteem, the swimmers presented Mr. Wilson with a fine pen and pencil set in the Loyola colors at the season's close.

TRACK

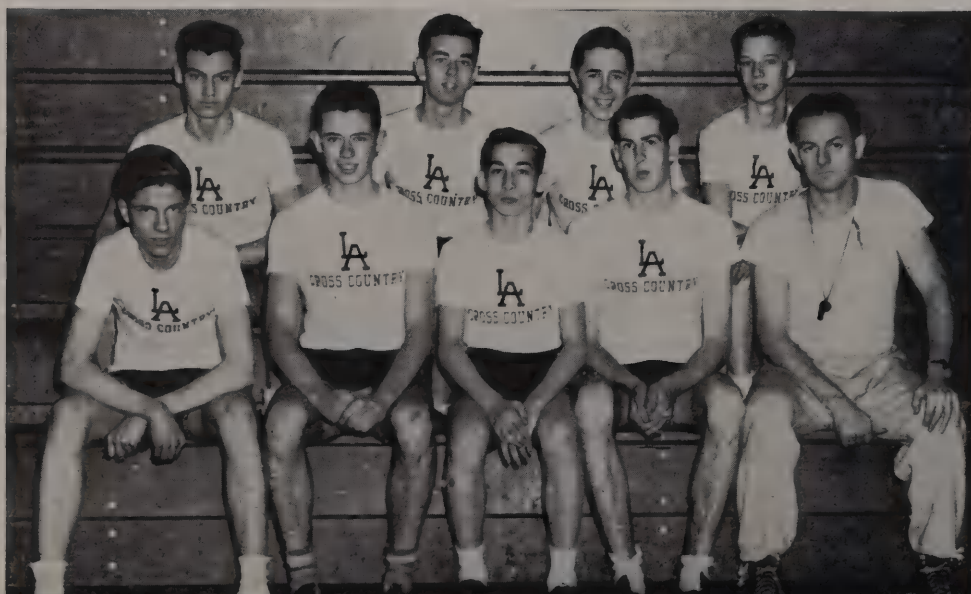

The track outlook at Loyola is, indeed, promising this year. The Junior City Champs of last season have strengthened the Senior team by entering senior competition. The seniors traditionally weak in the field events will be aided by veterans John Hayes and Dan Healy at the high jump, Jim Mulvihill at the shot put, and "Dode" Troman and Bill Maurer in the pole vault. They will be moderately strong in the sprints where the 220 and 100 yard Junior Champs, Jack Elster and Vern LaHart, will compete. In the distance events the Loyolans, with luck, could accumulate enough points to win the city meet. The distance men are lead by Ray Bomhack, undefeated in cross-country, who will run the mile and half-mile. Other half-milers are Ed Senini, also running his sideline, the hurdles, Ray Flanagan and Bill Roche, who is also counted on for the shot put. Aply filling the quarter-mile berth is Vern LaHart, who placed second in last year's senior quarter mile and is a favorite for the year's championship.

Cross Country Team. First Row—Wellbank, Penrice, Langfeld, Bomhack, Coach Connelly. Second Row—Cordell, Hellgeth, Quigley, Plate.

In the Illinois State Catholic Relays, the Loyolans will be close on the heels of the annual champions, St. Ignatius. Although the team does not expect to be crowned champs, the two mile relay record, sprint medley record, and the senior 880 yard relay will be threatened, if not broken.

The Junior team does not possess enough strength to repeat last year's performance. Joe LaHart is set to defend the pole vault title, he acquired last year, in addition to competing in the sprint and hurdles. "Brud" Maloney, third place winner in the pole vault, and Ray Pohl, sensational sprinter of last season, form the nucleus of the team. Other junior track men who will aid the cause are Harry Plate and Bill Schnitzius in the three-quarter mile, Bill Lambrecht, Ray Daly and Jim O'Brien in the 660 yard run, and Fred Lindstrom at the hurdles.

BIT AND BRIDLE

New to Loyola this year was the organization travelling under the title of the Bit and Bridle Club. The club was made up of a number of equestrian-minded students, who wanted a chance to ride more frequently with some of their friends. The large number of members (far more than are shown in the picture) show that there really is an avid interest in the noble sport of Horseback Riding.

It was largely due to the efforts of the late Mr. John F. Carey, S.J., that the club was formed. He acted as the moderator until his sudden death in the second semester. Upon his passing, the duties were taken up by Mr. Bamburgher, who had been riding with the club throughout the year. With the aid of Sarsfield Quigley, president, and Tom Reading, secretary, he carried on to lead the organization successfully through its initial year.

The group rode once each week, weather permitting, at the Christianson Riding Academy. They travelled the bridle paths of Lincoln Park.

The success with which the club has met, and the interest which it has aroused among the students, assure the continued existence of the Bit and Bridle in the future.

Ray Bomhack, Captain of Loyola's Cross Country team, holds the record in the Chicago Times A.A.U. meet. Ray got his start in Intra-Murals.

INTRA-MURALS

The Intra-Mural Program this year was the biggest and most successful ever held at Loyola. In fact, it was one of the most extensive programs held in the entire city of Chicago.

At Loyola, the athletic committee tries to present an intra-mural program which will provide the benefits of athletic competition for the many students who otherwise would not participate in sports.

Most of the credit for this year's program goes to Mr. Francis A. Gutowski, S.J., Jim Mulvihill, and John Finzer. Mr. Gutowski who is assistant intra-mural director, guided the program with a steady hand, while Jim and John saw to it that the program ran in smooth style. From the fall session of football to the spring tennis tournament, these two boys donated their time to the program. Fine fall weather allowed a most successful softball schedule. A powerful aggregation from 4C showed that they were the finest in the Senior-Junior Division while a fighting team from 2D captured the Freshman-Sophomore crown. Both teams were unbeaten in competition.

Jack Durso is about to heave another touchdown pass in one of the I-M Touchball games played last fall.

Players anxiously await rebound as I-M Tourney finalists tangle for the championship.

Jockey Dicken rides Whirlaway McBarron in the Senior Relays.

A full schedule of touch football followed. Again 4C came out on top in the Senior-Junior Division, but not until a closely contested struggle had seen 4A fall in defeat. At the end of regular play, both teams had identical records, necessitating a play-off game, which 4C won. 2A, with a very strong team, overpowered their opposition to win the Freshman-Sophomore title.

For the track lovers, there was the Fall Relays with its assortment of track events, including the dash, low hurdles, 440 yard run, and the shot put. In the Senior-Junior Division, it was a different story this time. 4A captured the crown by a wide margin. In the Frosh-Soph section, 2D won their second crown of the year.

After mid-year exams, and the annual retreat, the basketball tournament began. It took a month and a half of vigorous play for 3X to take the inter-room Championship by defeating 4C in the play-off game. 1B which defeated 2A for the Freshman-Sophomore Crown, became the first freshmen room to ever win the crown.

On December 15, the Second Annual Loyola Prep Intra-Mural Sports Night was held. It featured the finals in basketball and boxing.

"Let's get this straight! You gotta go the same way I do," says one freshman to another.

Jim Mulvihill and John Finzer, the "plasna" of the Intra-Mural Program are snapped by Prep photographer in one of their spare moments.

George Grego's team defeated Dan Healy's, 30-29; George himself scored twenty points. Here are the results of the boxing finals: Mulvihill, 4C, defeated Nash, 3D, heavyweight; King, 3B, defeated McCarthy, 4B, 166 lbs.; Ahern, 4C, decisioned Collyer, 3B, 156 lbs.; Anger, 4A, beat Kaiser, 3A, 150 lbs.; Hellgeth, 3X, Jerry Slattery, 3A, fought to a draw, 140 lbs.; Jim Slattery, 3A, conquered Schirmer, 3C, 128 lbs.; Schuster, 2C, out-boxed Adams, 1D, 180 lbs.; Dankowski, 1F, defeated Lindstrom, 2A, 162 lbs.; Cleary, 2B, won over Lovell, 2A, 156 lbs.; Ducey, 2X, outpunched Shannon, 2A, 140 lbs.; Byrnes, 2B, took care of Brahm, 2C, 130 lbs.; Scheid, 2A, was better than Carlow, 1D, 120 lbs.; Condon, 1C, outlasted Collis, 1F, 100 lbs.

"They're off!" Yes, it's Derby Day at Loyola. The Fall Relays are off to a fine start in the Freshman-Sophomore Division.

"It's a long, long pass; it looks good; no, it's intercepted." That's about the way things go when an Intra-Mural Touchball game is in progress.

STAFF OF YEARBOOK CHOSEN BY MR. WALSH; GRAD PREP AD CAMPAIGN TO BEGIN MONDAY

The 1945 Grad Prep Staff has been chosen! Mr. Walsh, who will again take up the duties of moderator, has just informed the Loyola Prep of the staff's names. Mr. Walsh stated that the staff will be the smallest ever to publish a yearbook at Loyola in recent years. There will be only twelve men on this year's staff. "We want a small, compact, but hard-working staff," said Mr. Walsh.

The Co-Editors of the yearbook are Chuck Rollings and Jack Jozwiak. Ed Kelly, Senior Class President, is in

Although the Academy has been open for almost a month, the school year does not officially begin until tomorrow.

The mystery of who had the ball was brought out in evident emphasis as the twice victorious Ramblers added a defeat from the speedy team of St. George's. The city champs showed, with much finesse, that they have definite designs on a second straight Catholic League title.

St. George elected to receive the ball.

'Bit and Bridle' New Club Formed in School

A new organization has been introduced this year at Loyola, namely, The Bit and Bridle Club. This is an activity for those interested in all equine affairs and is under the direction of Mr. Carey, S.J. The members are being taught the finer points of riding ability by competent instructors. When a member has proven himself capable of managing a horse, he is allowed to take more lengthy jaunts. The club

New Enrollment Totals 638; Freshmen Take Entrance Test

September

Back to school today, forsaking our well-paying summer jobs. What a blow to our pride! From bread-winner to student again! . . . Some of last year's teachers have left, giving us up as hopeless. Father Murphy, the former Assistant Principal, is doing missionary work in India. Father E. F. Mangold, lately of Cleveland, now wields the Big Stick. Mr. Liska, Mr. Lovely, and Mr. Manion have returned to their studies at West Baden. Father Cavanaugh, Student Counsellor last year, has become an Army chaplain as did his predecessor, Father Evett. We have received word that Father Cavanaugh is missing in action. Let us hope he will soon be back among us. We now have two Counsellors, Fathers Colford and Burns. . . . Mr. Frank Jenks has also left us to become head football coach at DePaul. He taught English and Spanish here. He was also assistant athletic coach and a very nice person. . . . Jack Floto plunged for a touchdown as we downed Mr. Jenks' boys, 6-0, in our opener. . . . Next the team outbattled Sullivan, 13-12. George Keough, the captain, scored the winning touchdown on a lateral right at the end of the game. . . . Today we elected Ed Kelly Senior Class President, Gene McKeough Vice-President, and John Hayes Secretary. All are from class 4A. . . . St. George pounded us, 20-0. 'Nuff said!

October

Ed Kelly, our shifty, hard-running halfback, broke his leg in the Leo game. Leo took advantage of this "break" to roll to a 34-6 triumph. Dick Garrity passed for a touchdown. . . . We learn from the Prep that the school enrollment totals 638. Second highest in Loyola's history! Many others were turned away because of lack of room. Freshmen now must take an entrance exam, and only the best get in. . . . We consecrated our efforts of the school year to the Holy Ghost at Mass this morning. It helps us to realize we aren't in school just to pass the time. . . . Weber's Catholic League Champs just squeezed by us, 6-0. They managed to break up all our drives just as we began to look good. . . . We played our best game of the year against Mount Carmel, only to lose in the last thirty seconds on a marvelous, thirty-five yard field goal. Our team outfought the highly-rated Carmelites the whole game. Score: 16-14. . . . The New World drive was a great success, compared to past performances. . . . We're waiting for the Senior Class rings. Guess it won't belong now. . . . Today the PREP printed "Genial Gene" Jones' great column on Trick Acey, a satire on a certain comic-strip flatfoot. When asked how he did it, Gene smiled knowingly. . . . Managed to get a look at my class picture; my girl says it looks like Clark Gable—about the ears, anyway. . . . Loyola surged up in the second half to beat De La Salle, 13-6. Garrity to McKeon accounted for one touchdown; Bill Roche smashed for the other. . . . Last year's GRAD PREP was rated All-Catholic, the only Catholic boys' high school to win that honor. Let's hope this year's issue will again reach those heights.

Loyola Swimmers Split Meet With Sullivan, 34-30, 24-34

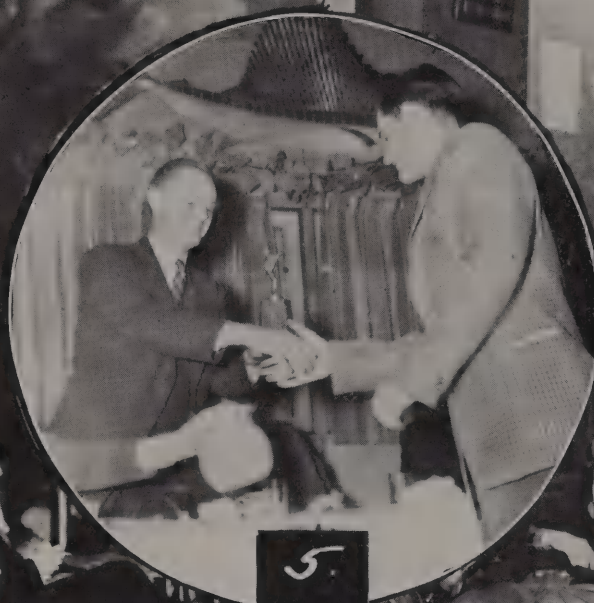

November

St. Rita went around and over us to make it 25-6. . . . Sonny Gray played "hot" and he played "sweet" at the Homecoming Dance. The "take" was "sweet", too! Highest in the dance's history. Boy, the gym was jammed!. . . We ended our league schedule by trimming Joliet, 14-6. "Slim" McHugh booted both extra points after McKeon passed to McKeough for one score and Garrity ran the other one over. . . .
Today Ray Bomhack won the Times Relays, setting a new record for his class. . . . Honors were awarded for the first quarter. Must have been a mistake somewhere. Don't they give credit for . . . ah . . . well, I didn't have a drag,
I guess. . . . A memorial gateway has been constructed at the North driveway in honor of Loyola graduates who gave life and liberty to us in exchange for their lives, loves, and hopes. Do you remember them often in your prayers?

Thanksgiving Day. In bitterly cold weather, Senn's football team poured it on, 45-0. Gosh
—I was so stunned I couldn't eat more than six pounds of turkey. . . . The Fathers' Club Annual Vaudeville Show was outstanding entertainment, as it is every year. A dance afterwards. What did she mean by that crack about a wooden leg?

December

Loyola swimmers edged out Sullivan 34-30.
. . . . All of us who bought war bonds at school were given a jeep ride around the football field by the Treasury Department. Yes, we exceeded our quota by about one thousand per cent. . . .
Would you believe it! The Senior Class rings arrived. Very nice, too. . . . We attempted to uphold the honor of L.A. in the Interscholastic Latin Contest. It was later announced that John Hayes (of fourth year) was the only Loyolan to place. He was number seven on the "Latin Hit Parade". . . . The "Sacred Derby," Father Maguire's venerable collection hat, made the rounds to the tune of $825. These funds provided Christmas dinners for many underprivileged families in the city. Congratulations,
Father. . . . The PREP announces that Gene Mc-Keough was chosen most valuable player on the grid squad this year. Also the PREP's Annual Intramural Night was a great success. . . . Suddenly a roaring avalanche of students pours out of Dumbach Hall. No, it's not a jail break—it's the Christmas vacation. . . . During the vacation, the football banquet was held at the Columbia Yacht Club. Ed McKeever, Cornell's football coach, was the guest speaker.

1. Ye book store. 2. The Homecoming was a big success. 3. A blow. 4. "What's new?" 5. Our most valuable. 6. "In this corner." 7. Relaxed in the lounge. 8. The editor. 9. On to battle!

At long last, the I-M basketball season at Loyola has gotten under way. The first few weeks have shown this year's rivalry to be more pronounced than ever before in the history of the sport, with close games being played in both the Senior and Junior divisions.

The Prep, for the first time, will present the leading scorer in both divisions with the Prep Award, which is yet to be determined. When the season closes,

Loyolans Defeat Procopius; Split Match with St. George

Loyola easily defeated St. Procopius of Lisle, Illinois, in two games last Friday night. The Lightweights took their game, 33 to 18, and the heavies won by a 63 to 38 score. Highlight of the Heavy game was the 28 points scored by Marty McCarthy. This is the highest total racked up by any

The Saint George Dragons invaded Loyola hardwood for four games last Sunday. Our Flies and Bantams won the first two contests, which were highlighted by George Acton's 22 points for the flies, and Fred Lindstrom's game-winning basket in the thrilling 42-40 bantam victory. The

January

I keep Writing 1944 on my homework instead of 1945. . . . L.A. dropped its first two league basketball games, to Joliet, 34-28 and St. Rita, 35-33. However, our juniors conquered St. Rita, 35-23. . . . Our previously undefeated swimming team fell to Fenwick. That seems to be developing into a habit. . . . At the end of the first semester, seven seniors graduated. No formal ceremony was held. Another senior, Jack Jozwiek, left to join the Society of Jesus. During the rest of the second semester, quite a few fellows departed to enter college or the services. . . . The basketball team split two games, losing to Mount Carmel, then outscoring DeLaSalle, 32-27. . . . We began our annual retreat. The four R's to remember are: Reason, Realize, Resolve, React. Since we soon will be trading high-school fun for military life, we tried to make this our best retreat. . . . Apparently strengthened physically as well as spiritually, our State Champion boxers pummeled a highly-publicized St. Mel's team, 9 bouts to 1. L.A. led by Bill Roche and Lee Cordell. . . . The destiny of the PREP has passed into new hands. Lou Lehr and Gene Dougherty will be co-editors. Under their leadership, the school paper will repeat its high achievements. What's that? No, the Tribune isn't worried yet.

February

A dismal month for the hoop squad—only two victories and five losses. However, we reached the season's high downing St. Procopius, 65-38. Marty McCarthy scorched the nets with 28 points. . . . Honors for the first semester were awarded. Despite his classroom outbursts, the class wise-cracker received honors. As he advanced to the front, somebody yelled, "Watch out, it may be a booby trap!" Oh, well, the jug didn't take me long. . . . Jerry Heffernan's boxers conquered Glenwood Manual Training, 6 to 4. The Ramblers were led by Jack Hellgeth and Dan Ahern's victories. Glenwood refused to provide opponents for Cordell and Roche. . . . The senior and junior swimming teams scored decisive victories over Miles Township High. . . . The boxing team lost their first meet of the year to Culver Military Academy of Indiana, 7 to 4. This does not affect their State Championship rating. Next, we decisively defeated St. Mary's of Wisconsin. This meet marked the departure from Loyola of Jerry Heffernan to enter the journalistic field. Jerry has endeared himself to Loyolans for the last fifteen years. Not only the boxers but the whole student body regrets his leaving.

Loyola Track Team Bows to Ignatius in Chicago Relays

St. Ignatius tied the Catholic League record at the Chicago Relays, Saturday, March 17, to defeat Mt. Carmel and Loyola, respectively. Loyola's team of Ed Senini, Bill Roche, Jack Elster, and Vern Lahart were in the peak of condition after many weeks of strenuous practice. The outside lane, a poor start, and St. Ignatius were a little more than last year's Junior champs could whip. Tomorrow Loyola will try her hand in the central A.A.U. Track Meet. This will be only one of many engagements.

Hoopsters End With Twin Loss

Loyola finished its basketball season by losing two doubleheaders, one to Leo, and the other to Weber. The Weber games were both fine showings, but our teams came out on the short end of the scoring. The Heavies lost, 45 to 29, and the Lights lost, 45 to 30. The Lights were one of the few teams to score 30 points against Weber. The Heavies lost, but three of the fellows came through with a considerable

Rostrum Finishes In Second Place

The Rostrum, the pride and joy of the Junior and Senior debaters, completed its schedule in the Junior Debating League by finishing in second place with a 6-4 record. Charles Giblin and George O'Laughlin, on the affirmative side, and Tom Reading and John Hayes on the negative side, all turned in impressive victories. Mr. Harvanek, S.J., now in his first year as Moderator of the Rostrum, deserves much of the credit for this successful year.

LOYOLANS GIVE WAY TO FENWICK IN FIRST ANNUAL JUNIOR MEET

Loyola's Junior swimming team took second place in the First Annual Junior Catholic League Swimming Meet at Fenwick last week. Fenwick turned up with a powerful squad which easily captured the title. Dick Griesser led Loyola's natators as he took two second places in the free-style and also

March

The Ramblers, weakened severely when Ed Kelly broke his leg, ended their basketball season by dropping games to DeLaSalle and Weber. The juniors lost too. However, Gene McKeough was given honorable mention on the Catholic All-Stars, and Dick DeCaluwe finished high in league scoring. . . . L.A. took second in Catholic League Junior Swim Meet. . . . The Academy suffered a sad loss when Mr. John Carey, S.J., died suddenly. Another blow was the passing away of Mr. Al Michiels, head engineer on the campus. We were relieved to hear that Father Paul Cavanaugh is a German prisoner of war and is quite well. . . . The Torch Club sponsored a social get-together in the U. lounge for the guys and their gals. . . . The fathers trimmed their sons in the annual softball game at the Fathers' Club Gym Night. . . . Father James Hussey, S.J., was appointed Acting President of Loyola U. How did that affect us? Simple, we got a holiday. . . . In the Catholic League Swimming Meet, breast stroker Len Deden, back stroker John Hayes, and free styler Bob Luxem all won individual titles. Penwick beat us out for the team title, though. . . . And just as spring fever overwhelmed us, along came Easter vacation.

April

On April 1 we celebrated Christ's Resurrection, the foundation stone of our religion. . . . The Fathers' Club held their annual Day of Recollection and two days later the Mothers' Club held theirs. . . . The track team journeyed down to Culver for their first track meet. Due to early deadlines, we cannot report the result now. However, prospects for the track team look good, with Vern LaHart, Elster, Roche, Senini, Bomhack, Healy, Hayes, Sweetney, Pohl, and Joe Lahart leading the way. . . . Tests were held at school by the ASTRP (it's too long to write out) for eligible seniors. . . . Jimmy McIntyre furnished the rhythm at the Tulip Trot, sponsored by the Torch Club. This is annually one of the finest spring dances in high-school social affairs.

From October's tossed and trodden gold
She is making the young year out of the old.

We're in the home-stretch. One month to go. You know, I wonder if I shouldn't have studied harder this year? . . . May devotions to Our Blessed Lady were started. . . . The Fathers' Club held its annual Communion Breakfast for dads and sons. . . . We seniors took our exams a week ahead of the underclassmen. Of course, I didn't have to worry. Not that I was exempt in everything, exactly. Or anything, even. But, after all, they wouldn't flunk me now . . . um . . . ah . . .

June

To Christ, the Prince of Peace,
And Son of God most high,
The Father of the world to come,—
Sing we with holy joy.

Ah, parting is such sweet sorrow! Whadda yamean, I'm just afraid of the draft board? . . . Our most important social event of the year—the Senior Prom—came off successfully. . . . Then, in St. Ignatius Church, we received the recognition of four years of study—our diplomas. June 10, 1945, will linger in our memories as the culmination of our adolescent endeavors. . . . It is impossible to express our gratitude to our teachers. We cannot even realize how well they have equipped us for the journey of life until we have passed many more milestones on the road. We can say, however, to all the members of the faculty: you have taught us to reason and to think, how to live, and how to enjoy life. We can view things in the right perspective, with God foremost. We shall remember you, and when we do, we shall be the better for it.

how high is very high?

★ Engineers at Hallicrafters are continually striving for new heights of perfection in high frequency development work. The Model S-37 is one example of the progress they have made. This is the first and only set of its kind—covering both AM and FM and operating in the range of 130 to 210 Mc. Two r.f. stages are used and in conjunction with an intermediate frequency of 18 Mc., assure an amazingly high ratio of image rejection. It is becoming a valuable instrument in the hands of all exploring the upper reaches of the high frequency ranges.

Model S-37. The highest frequency range of any continuous tuning commercial type receiver.
